

EGA regulations → <https://www.europeangroomingassociation.eu/rules.php>

- Commercial/workshop - Competitors can compete with any dog breed, performing commercial grooming – pet grooming. Breeds that typically require trimming can be trimmed with clippers or scissors. Poodles are acceptable with a "teddy bear" cut or other breeds, such as Kerry Blues. Spitz dogs are allowed, but we recommend entering the Double Coat category. Trimmed dogs and colored dogs are not permitted. Working time: 1.5 hours for small and medium dogs, and 2 hours for large dogs. All grooming techniques are permitted: clippers, combs, or scissors. This is an additional category, not divided into Open and Champion classes, and its winner does not compete for Best in Show.
- Double Coat – In this category, competitors can enter breeds with undercoats, including Spitz, Samoyed, Shetland Sheepdogs, Collies, and others. Scissor techniques are permitted. Small and medium breed- 1,5h, large breed- 2h

Dog Model

In this category, competitors can enter with a synthetic dog model made of a soft, smooth synthetic fiber material, ensuring a realistic finish. A full silhouette of the dog is required, showing the entire body – including the head, body, paws, and tail.

The coat color of the dog model is optional, and all techniques are permitted. The competitor provides their own Dog Model.

- Dog Commercial Model (2h) - the dog model must resemble a commercially styled dog. Minor color accents are permitted.
- Dog Creative Model (2,5h) - the dog model can take any shape and form. Coloring and decorative accents are permitted.
- Dog model standard FCI (2h) - the dog model must be made according to the FCI breed standard.

2 GROOM

- A category in which two competitors work on a live model. One participant does one side of the dog, the other the other, the end result is one full hairstyle on the model. Small and medium breed- 1,5h, large breed- 2h

The course of the competition may be photographed, filmed, and broadcast live on the Organizer's websites and social media channels. By participating in the competition, the Participant acknowledges and accepts that they may appear in the footage, photographs, or live broadcasts.